ANTICIPATE. PREPARE. LEAD.

Make sense of the ever-changing world of health care. Frame its future. And then chart its course.

As a SHSMD member, you'll enjoy a network of forward thinkers and play a key role in where your profession and your field are heading.

ANTICIPATE. PREPARE. LEAD.

SHSMD: Fuel to take you forward faster.

A leader. A change driver. A creative thinker. As a health care strategist, you've probably been called all of these. That's because every day, you take innovative ideas and leading strategies and bring them to fruition, embracing the challenges of the rapidly evolving health care landscape and transforming them into opportunities.

Now imagine thousands of fellow strategists alongside you, sharing best practices and innovations to keep you on the leading edge of health care. Imagine countless resources at your fingertips. And imagine tapping into a network of peers who have been there and conquered that.

That's what a SHSMD membership offers. It's a chance to validate and expand your thinking to help you make a deeper impact. It's a chance to become more efficient and effective in your work. And it's a chance to strengthen your organization and advance your career.

Join the American Hospital Association's Society for Health Care Strategy & Market Development—SHSMD—the premier organization for health care strategy professionals in:

- Marketing and digital engagement
- Communications and public relations
- Strategic planning and business development
- And more

"Being a member has had an incredibly positive impact—not only for myself but also for my colleagues and members of my team. The knowledge and skills we have gained has fostered our development as professionals and assisted in improving our organization. Our hospital has benefited from the insights we have gained from being part of the SHSMD community."

"As a marketer who came from outside of health care, SHSMD has been an invaluable resource in helping me move my organization forward. From webcasts and the annual conference, to online resources and volunteer opportunities, I learn something new each time I interact with SHSMD. The Society has more depth and more tools to help health care marketers and planners than any other professional organization I've been part of."
